More Serialization and Compliance Resources

A photograph of a man in a dark suit and tie standing on a stage, facing an audience. The audience is seated in rows of chairs, mostly in shadow. The stage is lit from above, and a large screen behind the speaker displays a slide titled "Global Track and Trace Perspective" with a bulleted list of points.

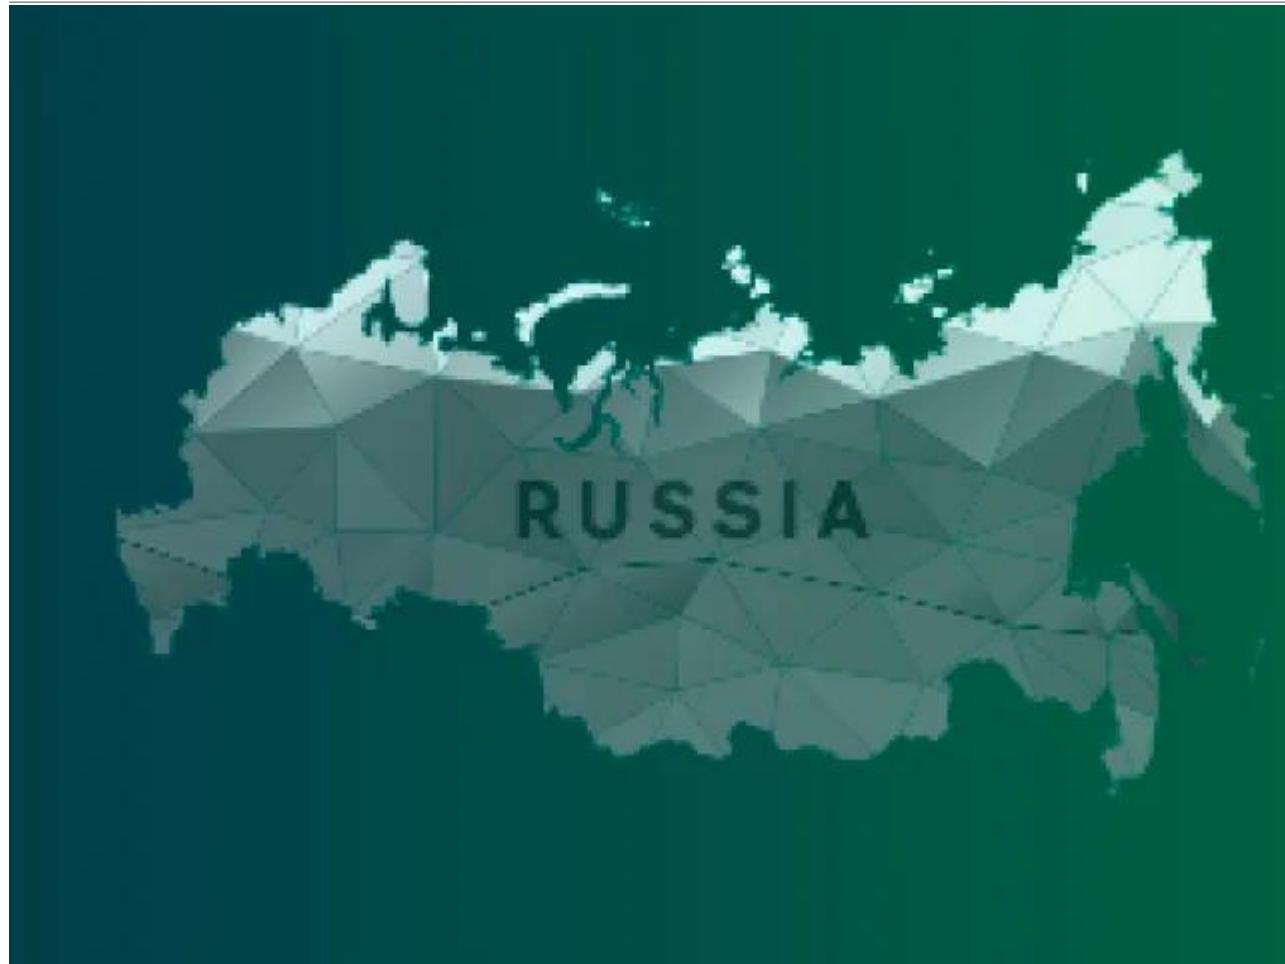

Global Track and Trace Perspective

- Adoption of medicine coding, serialization, and traceability
- Standards exist (coding, serialization, data exchange) but is not universal
- Serialization and traceability regulations are not convergent model or approach
 - Unique country, social, or industry requirements drive heterogeneity and system requirements
- This diverse environment challenges the push to "business as usual"
 - TraceLink will be launching a BAU Innovation Forum in Q4
- The regulations leave important gaps for industry to address
 - Centralized reporting does not facilitate network information
