A Day in the Life of a Serial Number

Original webcast: May 2, 2017

Who commissions serial numbers? How do I exchange serialized data with my trading partners? How does compliance reporting and verification work? If these questions sound familiar, watch our on-demand webinar for answers. You'll have a bird's-eye view into the life of a serial number—from end to end—as serialized product travels through your operations and the pharmaceutical supply chain.

In this on-demand webinar, you will:

- Journey through an end-to-end serialized workflow.
- See the benefits of partner onboarding in a network environment.
- Learn how to leverage your network for operational efficiency.

The Drug Supply Chain Security Act (DSCSA) serialization deadline is just months away, so whether you're already shipping product or currently awaiting approval, now's the time to get on board with the requirements.
