Digitalization: The Key to More Agile Supply Planning

Digitalizing exception management gives executives more insight into the integrated business planning and execution process and empowers planners to respond up to 65% faster to planning exceptions, speed cash-to-cash cycle times, and improve OTIF by up to 82% with:

- Real-time visibility into exceptions and their impact on plans.
- Real-time collaboration across the supply chain to define changes to plans.
- Real-time agility to execute changes to plans.
