4 Must-Have Capabilities for DSCSA 2023 Compliance for Dispensers

The compliance deadline for the U.S. Drug Supply Chain Security Act (DSCSA) is coming up fast—and your pharmacy needs to get ready now! The good news is that the DSCSA investments you make now can provide significant business and operational benefits beyond compliance with the law. These benefits include the capability to predict drug shortages, improved inventory management across all locations, and faster product recalls.

Watch our on-demand webinar, "4 Must-Have Capabilities for DSCSA 2023 Compliance," to see how DSCSA compliance on a digital supply chain network platform improves operations and creates new value for your organization. Three reasons to attend:

- Get a preview of Product Availability Intelligence, which leverages collective intelligence from more than 290,000 TraceLink network members to predict drug shortages up to 90 days in advance with high accuracy.

- Learn how augmenting existing pharmacy systems with serialized data, GTIN information, and pack-level master data helps you improve pharmacy operations and make better business decisions.

- See how TraceLink is digitalizing and increasing the speed of product recalls.

The final phase of the DSCSA mandate goes into effect on November 27, 2023. Arm yourself with the expert insights you need to get ready now and turn DSCSA compliance into a competitive advantage. Fill out the form on this page to watch the webinar now.
