RESOURCES

Home
Resources
Resource Center

Drop Shipments, 340B, and Returns: Unpacking the Complexity of Shipments Under DSCSA

Under the U.S. DSCSA, pharmaceutical and healthcare companies are required to electronically exchange item-level product traceability information. This creates new logistical challenges for drop shipments, 340B, and returns, leaving many in the industry asking questions like:

- How do manufacturers drop shipping product to dispensers send serialized T2 data electronically if they don't have a direct commercial relationship?
- Who should provide contract pharmacies with the data needed for receiving 340B product—the covered entity or the distributor?
- How does the wholesale distributor verify returned product, particularly if they didn’t originally purchase it directly from the manufacturer?

These scenarios must be addressed to ensure DSCSA compliance by the end of the stabilization period in November. Download this infographic and see how the TraceLink supply chain network platform can help address the core challenges underpinning these scenarios.

InfographicUS Drug Supply Chain Security Act<a

© TraceLink Inc. 2009 - 2025 All Rights Reserved

href="/category/dscsa-manufacturers" hreflang="en">DSCSA for Manufacturers
See how DSCSA impacts shipping and receiving!
Fill out the form to download the infographic.

Thank you. Check your email for a copy of the content you requested.

Related Content

DSCSA Drop Shipments: How TraceLink Makes Compliance Easy for Pharmacies

Watch this quick video clip to see how TraceLink makes drop shipments easy for pharmacies.
View More

© TraceLink Inc. 2009 - 2025 All Rights Reserved

No Time to Delay Your Project: FDA Guides Industry to Use the Next 12 Months to Stabilize DSCSA Systems and Processes

The FDA announced a 12-month DSCSA stabilization period, but the law remains in effect. Find out why compliance projects should not be delayed.

View More

© TraceLink Inc. 2009 - 2025 All Rights Reserved

340B Under DSCSA: How to Close the Gap Between Data Flow and Product Flow

The impact of DSCSA on 340B products has been a constant source of confusion. Read this Q&A for insight on how to compliantly manage 340B shipments.
View More

© TraceLink Inc. 2009 - 2025 All Rights Reserved