Scaling Up: The Need for Next-Gen Supply Chain Information Sharing

The predominant methods for sharing information between partners are costly, inefficient, and will not scale to 100% of your supply chain, according to Bharath Sundararaman, General Manager of Life Sciences Manufacturing at TraceLink. Watch this brief video to learn why manufacturers are demanding real-time answers to questions about order status, inventory, and more from 3PL partners. Then contact TraceLink to learn how MINT for Logistics enables logistics services to get customers the answers they need in real time.
