Meet with TraceLink at LogiPharma U.S.

LogiPharma U.S. is where pharmaceutical supply chain leaders shape strategy, form lasting partnerships, and confront the industry's biggest challenges. This year, TraceLink will lead the conversation on AI meets the supply chain, with President and CEO Shabbir Dahod delivering a keynote on Agentic Orchestration of Your End-to-End Supply Chain—a model for unlocking transformational value and true supply chain intelligence through AI agents based on a trusted digital network platform powering intelligent orchestration of network partners, business processes, and products.

Meet with TraceLink at LogiPharma to discover how life sciences companies, CMOs, 3PLs, and other trading partners are improving productivity, agility, and cost-effectiveness today across their commerce, manufacturing, and logistics networks while laying the intelligent orchestration foundation for AI agents to analyze, plan, decide, and act.

Why Meet with TraceLink?

- Meet Your Pressing Strategic Business Outcomes Today:

Whether your goal is to maximize revenue, improve service levels, reduce working capital, increase productivity, or open new markets or channels, TraceLink breaks down silos and links your supply chain into an intelligent, agile, and AI-ready supply network.

- Digitalize and Orchestrate Complex Processes Across Your Network:

Standardize and automate critical processes with all network partners from forecasting and order management to external manufacturing, logistics, and exception handling on a single platform designed for seamless partner collaboration and scalable operations.

- Lay the Foundation for Agentic AI in the Supply Chain:

Enable real-time digital exchange of supply chain transactions across your supply chain, delivering the clean, contextualized data AI systems need to drive intelligent action.
