TraceLink Announces 2025 Corporate Grant Recipients Driving Global Community Impact

Summary

TraceLink announced the eight global nonprofit recipients of its 2025 corporate grant program, supporting organizations in the U.S., India, and Spain and providing volunteer opportunities for employees. Built on its mission to enhance health, safety, and the greater good by giving back, the program empowers nonprofits creating healthier, more equitable communities worldwide.

BOSTON, Mass. — December 2, 2025 — TraceLink, the largest end-to-end digital network platform for intelligent orchestration of the supply chain, has announced the recipients of its 2025 corporate grant program. Eight nonprofit organizations across the United States, India, and Spain were selected for their alignment with TraceLink's values of equitable access to care, community health, and sustainability.

For more than 15 years, TraceLink has worked to protect patients by ensuring that critical medicines reach them safely, securely, and on time. That same commitment extends beyond the supply chain and into the communities where TraceLink operates. Through the corporate grant program and community involvement initiatives, the company supports organizations working to improve the quality of life and build healthier, more resilient communities around the world.

> “Every year, we’re reminded that meaningful impact comes from partnership,” said Shabbir Dahod, President and CEO of TraceLink. “These organizations are doing the hard, hands-on work to support families, expand access to resources for those in need, and strengthen resilience at the local level. Our role is to stand beside them, amplify their efforts, and help create the conditions for healthier communities to thrive.”

TraceLink’s 2025 Grant Recipients

U.S. Recipients

Boston Alliance of LGBTQ+ Youth (BAGLY): A youth-led, adult-supported organization committed to social justice, BAGLY works to create, sustain, and advocate for programs, policies, and services for the LGBTQ+ youth community in Massachusetts. The grant will support wellness programs, inclusive clinical services, and peer-led mental health initiatives such as the Trans Youth Summit and Youth Pride.

> “We’re thrilled to be a recipient of funding through TraceLink to support BAGLY’s Health and Wellness Program,” said Grace Sterling Stowell, Executive Director, BAGLY. “BAGLY has been working with TraceLink for several years now, and we look forward to deepening our relationship through this opportunity. TraceLink’s commitment to equity and community health aligns deeply with BAGLY’s mission to ensure that every LGBTQ+ young person can lead healthy, authentic lives. With TraceLink’s support, more LGBTQ+ youth in Massachusetts will have access to free, no-insurance-required mental health services and so much more. We're grateful for their partnership and belief in the power of community to make lasting change."

Immigrant and Refugee Health Center (IRHC) at Boston Medical Center (BMC): The Immigrant and Refugee Health Center works to eliminate immigration-related barriers to healthcare by integrating BMC's services into a centralized medical home model, ensuring that migration status does not affect access to care. The grant will help expand trauma-informed care and strengthen case management and patient navigation programs.

"Boston Medical Center wishes to thank TraceLink for selecting our hospital as a recipient of your 2025 Corporate Grant opportunity," said Dr. Sarah Kimball, Director, Immigrant & Refugee Health Center at BMC. "Your generous gift helps protect the critical roles and services that keep

"Village Food Hub is thankful to be a grant recipient of TraceLink, especially during this unprecedented time of need," said Shari McLeod, Executive Director, Village Food Hub. "Village Food Hub aims to increase the number of people we serve in order to provide relief from food insecurity, and support from the greater community is vital to our work. This grant from TraceLink will propel us towards meeting this goal. We are so appreciative of our partnership."

India Recipients

Muskaan Foundation for Child Protection: Muskaan is dedicated to preventing child sexual abuse and supporting survivors through education, counseling, and
